

It is Peace.

The SENTINEL welcomes the news that peace, instead of war, is the choice of Chile. From the first we have strenuously urged that the final appeal when every honorable effort had been exhausted to bring the Chileans to their senses. It is certain now that but for the firm stand taken by the administration, and the patriotic agitation on the part of the loyal papers of the country, Chile would never have been freed from her deluded and stubborn attitude. Therefore we are justified in regarding the surrender of Chile to the demands of President Harrison as a signal and manly example of the triumph of patriotic American sentiment voiced in the columns of genuine American newspapers.

The battle was without bloodshed, but it has been a hard one; a battle, and no small amount of credit for its triumph must be given to the press irrespective of party, which have sustained the cause of the country against undignified hostility abroad and captured positions at home.

A Strong Quartette.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

The most jingoistic American should be satisfied with the almost abject apology of Chile's government for insults to our flag. It is now the part of the United States government to accept this apology in the spirit in which it was evidently offered.

Not America alone but humanity will be the gainer by the settlement of the Chilean controversy without bloodshed.

The attempt to force President Harrison of dishonest motives in sending his message to congress will fail. The sense of the president is a thing of today, while the principles which he has declared stand as the backbone of a great nation for all time.

Baldy is Seated.

The supreme court has decided the Nebraska boundary case in favor of Boyd, Democrat. The opinion declares Boyd a citizen on the grounds that when Nebraska was admitted to the union all residents were citizens, and also that Boyd's father is known to have been a citizen. Justice Reed also dissented.

Washington Feb. 1.—All the Justices except Justice Field concur in the conclusion of the court that Boyd was a citizen of the United States and entitled to the office of governor of Nebraska.

Justices Harlan, Gray and Brown concurred in that part of the opinion which held that Boyd was a citizen because from the record in the case it must be considered as established that Boyd's father, having exercised all the rights of a citizen, had, in fact, taken out his final naturalization papers, notwithstanding he did not have a record of such final naturalization papers.

The court also held that there was such a thing as collective naturalization, that the enabling act of Nebraska constituted a naturalization of all inhabitants of the state at the time of its admission, except such as desired to retain their foreign rights, and that Boyd's exercise of various offices showed his intention to become a citizen.

Tint Post and Beaver Star, two prominent Democratic papers of Pittsburgh, have been convicted of criminally libeling Senator Quay of Pennsylvania. The defendants on trial admitted the untruthfulness of the publication, the substance of which had been obtained from the Democratic state committee, but claimed an absence of malice.

THERE has been considerable boasting on the part of Democratic friends about how rapidly they have been reducing the state debt. It looks now, however, as though those who would have an increase of the debt. The treasury will soon be empty, it is said, and there will not be money enough even to meet the appropriations made by our last legislature. The St. Louis Republic says: "The revenue fund of Missouri is in such a condition that no appropriation for the state university can be made without assuming a debt, but there is sufficient money to meet the expense of an extra session of the legislature, provided such sessions do not exceed $100,000. This is an optimistic view of the situation. If the report of State Auditor Sieben is accurate, it means that there will not be sufficient money in the treasury to meet the appropriations already made, and that the state board of education accepts the returns of new taxes there will be a large deficit in the revenue fund."

Bridge Mr. Columbus Bridge and wife were called upon last week, Jan. 25, to mourn the loss of their infant son, who, after a few days' sickness, died on that day aged nearly six weeks. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. Roberts at the family residence on Friday afternoon, Jan. 29th, after which the remains were taken to the old cemetery and laid to rest. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

Recommended by the Queen.

This is what all English people say about whatever they have to sell in America however it's "the verdict of the people" that Halle's Barb Wire Liniment is the most successful remedy for cuts, bruises and sores ever introduced. For sale by Hinds & Fairbank.

Bigelow.

John L. Cushing has at last been placed on the pension rolls.

Edith will move his family to Craig as soon as he can secure a house.

Mr. Almon West, of Bigelow, is lying very ill with pneumonia, and is expected to die.

Miss Mary Cleavington, who has been attending school at Forest City, has never been seen from her death and stubborn attitude. Therefore we are justified in regarding the surrender of Chile to the demands of President Harrison as a signal and manly example of the triumph of patriotic American sentiment voiced in the columns of genuine American newspapers.

The battle was without bloodshed, but it has been a hard one; a battle, and no small amount of credit for its triumph must be given to the press irrespective of party, which have sustained the cause of the country against undignified hostility abroad and captured positions at home.

A Strong Quartette.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

A Strong Quartette.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.

Baldy is Seated.

There is no doubt that our enterprising free traders of the Abolition party have begun a crusade to keep the tariff Indians from capturing the party in Congress. They are Mills of Texas, Cardinals and Watterson of Kentucky, and Morrison of Illinois. Four stronger and more ardent free traders could not possibly be found in the ranks of the Democracy. They have national prominence and influence; they will have wide support and they can dictate terms to their party associates if they see fit. They are believers in the theory that unless the party makes its record in congress preparatory to the presidential contest thus far on the issue of free trade, or "tariff reform," as the more conservative free traders designate it, against protection a policy of government, defeat will surely be met.

Humanity the Trainer.

It is literally "spies with honor." The Cillian War cloud has vanished under a sunburst of good temper and good sense on the little republic's part.

It is a double triumph, a victory for American diplomacy and a tribute to the modern civilization of war. There is naturally an interested element in every nation whose voice is for war on the least provocation. In this nation such an element is in a hopeless minority. The understanding of American public opinion is for peace—but always peace with honor.</p